It is this system which is to be re-inaugurated in Salt Lake. Under the administration of Mayor Richard P. Morfis, just closed, these secret gambling joints, which were little, if any, better than bunko or "big mitt" joints, were wiped out; private protection to gamblers was abolished and the houses were forced to pay a monthly revenue to the city. There has not been even the suspicion of a private graft.

Has Always Run Here.

Gambling has been conducted either openly or "on the quiet" in Salt Lake from a time whereof the mind of man runneth not the contrary. The greatest scandal it has ever caused was under the two preceding administrations of Ezra Thompson. During Thompson's preceding admin-istration, when gambling was run on The dealers gathered their rabbitthe quiet, a man who was fleeced out of money had no recourse. Within a few minutes they had visited the six open gambling houses, and the proprietors of the latter had obeyed the order.

The six gambling houses affected by the order are the Occidental, the Red Onion, the Green Light, the Horseshoe, the Wasatch and the place over the Mahan Liquor company's saloon. These houses have been running openly and have been paying a fine of $299 a month to the city.

Gamblers are expecting some person to be designated by the city administration who will have charge of the reorganization, and whose consent will be a prerequisite to the turning of a wheel or the dealing of a card. He will not have to be confirmed by the city counhave to be confirmed by the city council. The list of those to whom consent will be given is said to be prepared already. The $299 a month, or more or less, will not go to the city.

The will hot the will not the started. Then Goldfield caught the fever, and now the whole southern part of the state has risen and the roads leading in the direction of Manhattan are burdened with all the miscellaneous paraphernalia of frontier mining life. Thirty six-mule teams drag huge loads of lumber, camp and mine contents. Thompson Did It Before.

Such a state of affairs will merely be history repeating itself in the official career of Ezra Thompson. Toward the end of his first term he closed open career of Ezra Thompson. Toward the end of his first term he closed open gambling; but nobody pretended that gambling did not run. Instead of open gambling under police surveillance, several favored places were opened behind locked doors, and sentries were placed on guard. This continued throughout his entire second term.

Under this system "brace games" thrived, and the gambling houses went after big money; cappers were employed who frequented hotels, railroad offices and other public places in search of men who had a "large bank roll."

Such victims were enticed into the secret gambling places and "turned" for the secret gambling places and "turned" for known of them had their appetites whetcret gambling places and "turned" for large sums of money. There was no assurance that the games were on the square. The police, knowing that the places were favored by the administration, let them alone as a rule.

Ezra Thompson and his "American" administration take possession of the city with $1.135.562.10 in cold cash in the city treasury. This is in spite of the fact that some of the croakers have been howling about a bankrupt city. These same croakers have been turning black in the face howling that the $530.000 voted by the taxpayers a year ago to solve the water problem had been squandered and that there is nothing to show for the expenditure of this money.

When the business of the Morris administration was closed Dec. 31. 1905, the records of the city auditor showed that but one-fifth of the water fund had been expended. To be more accurate the amount of money that had been expended from this water fund was $179.332.36. This left a balance unexpended in this fund of $500.687.64. The contracts let call for the expenditure of an additional $199.682.44, and when these contracts are met there will still remain an untouched balance in the water fund of $470,985.20.

The total expended and contracted for $379,014.80—and the cash balance on hand $470,985.20—make up the total of $550,000 -$470.985.20—make up the total of $550,000 voted by the taxpayers for the purpose of solving the water problem. It will be seen from these figures hat over half of the bond money is now in the city treasury in cold cash, while practically $200,000 in addition to the $470.985 is in the treasury to be paid out on contracts for work hours done.
